

INCENDIARIES

Burn the Plant of the Federal Coal Company, in Pennsylvania.

MULES POISONED AT MINES.

The Terrible Condition of a California Bank President in Chicago.

A FATHER AND DAUGHTER DROWNED.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 25.—The plant of the Federal Coal Company, at Federal in this coal district, was destroyed by fire early this morning. In some other mines the mules have been poisoned. None of the perpetrators have been captured, but suspicion points to the strikers who are being watched. The guards about the mines will be increased. If these actions are traced to the striking miners, it will make any agreement almost an impossibility and will hurt the cause of the strikers.

WENT CRAZY.

A San Francisco Bank President Creates a Panic.

Chicago, Aug. 25.—Bank President Tallant, of San Francisco, went crazy last night on an incoming train and created a regular panic among the passengers. He threw away gold and tried to kill some of the occupants of the car. He is now a raving maniac and is confined in a padded cell.

IMPROVED BUSINESS.

Best in Years Enjoyed By the Railroads Around Birmingham.

Birmingham, Ala., Aug. 24.—The railroads in this section are doing the biggest business for five years. Yesterday the Louisville & Nashville railroad moved thirty-three freight trains out of Birmingham, three of which were laden solidly with pig iron for shipment to Europe. Because of the great increase in traffic all the railroad shop men here have been ordered to work ten hours daily, where they have been working but six. The demand for pig iron, especially for export purposes, is so good that two more furnaces are preparing to start, making sixteen in operation.

A SAD DROWNING.

Father and Daughter Lost in a Mountain Stream.

New Roe, Ky., Aug. 25.—J. C. Hickerson and daughter, of this county, have been drowned in Clay county where they were visiting.

STORM'S FATAL WORK.

One Man Killed and Another Fatally Hurt in an Indiana Town.

Bloomington, Ind., Aug. 25.—During a storm last evening at Ellettsville a tree blew down on a slaughter house where Joseph Edwards and Charles Ambers were at work. Edwards was instantly killed and Ambers fatally injured.

DEBOE GOES HOME.

His Visit Thought to Have Considerable Political Significance.

Owensboro, Ky., Aug. 24.—Senator Deboe has returned to his home at Marion, after a brief visit to Collector T. J. Yandell here. It is said at the collector's office that the visit was purely of a social nature, but outsiders say political matters of importance were discussed.

AFTER DR. TURNER.

Hunterites in the Eighth Judicial District Want His Scalp.

Bowling Green, Ky., Aug. 25.—A bitter fight is being waged by the Hunter faction in the Eighth judicial district in the attempt to depose Dr. William Turner, district chairman. Turner is a Bradley Republican. Turner has been branded a denunciation of his enemies and proposes to fight them all along the line. The matter may be brought before the State Central committee.

39.66 CENTS

Was Yesterday's Value of the Silver in a Standard Dollar.

New York, Aug. 24.—At today's New York price for bars, the value in the silver dollars is 39.66 cents.

WHEAT IN MERCER COUNTY.

Farmers Holding Their Crops Expecting Still Higher Prices.

Harrodsburg, Ky., Aug. 24.—A special to the "Courier Journal" says: Inquiry among the wheat buyers today reveals the fact that Mercer county produced this season over 500,000 bushels of wheat. Of this amount 300,000 bushels have been sold and shipped off at prices ranging from fifty-eight cents to $1.10, the latter figure being reached last Saturday, when 10,000 bushels were bought at that price. The farmers are keeping up with the market as well as the buyers, and a great many of them refused to sell yesterday at

FOSTER HELD.

The Evidence Showed That He Maliciously Cut Finis Dance.

WAS SENT BACK TO JAIL.

The Nuisance Case Against R. H. Woolfolk Will Likely Be Dismissed.

OTHER CASES IN TODAY'S COURT.

Charlie Foster, alias "Dog," was tried this morning for maliciously cutting Finis Dance, alias Campbell, at Tom Emery's saloon on August 7. He was held to answer in the sum of $200 and in default of bond went to jail.

Dance was first called and said that Foster came into Tom Emery's saloon and said something. He told Foster to "go away," and Foster wouldn't do it. "Go away, you —," I said and he said "You call me a —," and cut me in the face. He cut me in the head and I grabbed a chair; he then cut me in the side. He cut me four times in all, once on the face, once in the head, once on the wrist and once in the side.

Dance claimed that the first two times he was cut while sitting down. The defense did not cross-examine him.

Tom Emery was called. He remembered Foster's entrance and remembered Dance calling him a —, but as the word is often used in place by the men who frequent the place, nothing was thought of it until Dance rose up and they saw blood dropping from his jaw.

G. H. Ford, told substantially the same story, except that he saw Dance strike Foster twice with a chair after he was cut.

Foster, the defendant, claimed that he took a drink in the saloon and went back to the game. He claimed that Dance became enraged because he wanted to play somebody's hand, and that when Dance called him a — he asked him if he meant it.

Dance raised up, seized the chair, and struck him on the head with it. The chair got hung over his head and he was in this way drawn to Dance and then cut him. Previous to this, Foster claimed, Dance had knocked two of his teeth out with the first chair, which was broken, and hit him with another chair.

Manuel West was also in the game and saw Dance strike Foster twice with the chair.

Jim Porter was charged with striking Josephine Parker, but the evidence did not sustain the charge and the case was dismissed.

Henry Slaughter, the darkey who drew a knife on Officer Cow, was fined $10 and costs.

The nuisance case against Mr. R. H. Woolfolk was left open, but Judge Sanders intimated that he would dismiss it tomorrow. The charge is obstructing natural drainage by filling up a lot.

J. H. Clark, Max Garrett and Oscar Phelps were fined for drunkenness.

SILVERITE AFTER GOLD.

Nominee Black is Neglecting His Campaign to Hunt the Yellow Metal.

A Hawesville special to the Courier-Journal under date of the 24th says: Garland D. Black, of this city, who is the silver nominee in Ohio county for the legislature, was in town Sunday with a pocket full of alleged gold nuggets and gold-bearing quartz. He has found a large hill within twenty miles of this place which he says is full of the precious metal. He says he can scrape it up in wagon loads, but is attempting to keep the matter quiet until he can lease it all. He owns part of the territory. Mr. Black is the wildest silver man in these parts.

Has Returned Home.

Cabell R. Berry, Jr., son of Ex-Speaker C. E. Berry, of the State

Senate of Tennessee, one of the wealthiest and most promising young attorneys of the Nashville bar, who has been visiting Mr. Robert L. Vint, of South Fourth street, for the past week, was suddenly called home on account of sickness in his family, much to the regret of his many friends.

HON. JOHN R. HINDMAN

Opens the Campaign for the National Democrats.

Hon. J. R. Hindman, National Democratic candidate for clerk of the court of appeals, was in Louisville yesterday, preliminary to the opening of his campaign, which he will inaugurate at Hickman today. He will be on the stump, with few interruptions, until the election.

Mr. Hindman says that the conditions for National Democracy were never more favorable. With a dollar wheat market to back up his statements, Mr. Hindman says that he will have little trouble in convincing that prosperity is here. The appellate nominee is confident that he will poll a big vote. Mr. Hindman is in good shape and ready for hard work. He is a strong, convincing speaker, witty, and reaches a crowd with little difficulty.

He spoke at Paducah Friday and at Mayfield Saturday.

NEW FLOUR MILL

Two Capitalists Are Here With a View of Locating One.

They Mean Business—May Establish It Near the Illinois Central Yards.

Two capitalists are now in the city negotiating for a site on which to erect a new flouring mill. They are men of means, and mean business.

In two or three days the matter will be ready for the public, but as the gentlemen do not desire to give anything out at present, the details of the project are withheld.

WITH INTENT TO KILL.

Lively Scrap Near the Broadway Freight Depot.

S. F. Buchanan and Ben Boyd, Colored, Fight Over Their Teams.

S. F. Buchanan, who drives a delivery wagon for the Jake Biederman Grocery Company, went before Judge Sanders this afternoon at 2 o'clock and swore out a warrant against Ben Boyd, the colored dray driver, charging him with malicious assault with intent to kill.

Boyd was arrested by Officers Crow and Bond and carried to the city hall.

It appears that the two men were near the Illinois Central freight depot with their teams. Boyd wanted to get in to the depot to unload some goods, and Buchanan's wagon was in the way. A discussion arose, and hot words ensued. Boyd attempted to forcibly drive past, and Buchanan struck his mule on the head with a whip, according to Boyd, and then struck the latter as he passed.

Both then began fighting, and the contest lasted some time, and attracted quite a crowd. Buchanan was badly beaten up about the head and according to Boyd, called the latter a name that does not look well in print, which caused him to assault him again. Boyd received a few scratches.

Buchanan makes the charge that Boyd struck him with some hard, blunt instrument, but Boyd claims it was his fist. Buchanan had his wounds dressed by a doctor, and Boyd will probably give bond.

Boyd often figures in the police court, but his principal fault is fighting. His brother is now a fugitive, wanted for shooting Morton Johnson, colored, on the excursion to Cairo last Sunday.

BIG CROWD

Leaves Paducah at Noon For the Windy City.

Vice-President Wellings Passes Through From Louisville to Chicago.

Two coach loads of people left the Union depot at noon for Chicago on the excursion given by the Illinois Central. The crowd was many of the best people of Paducah, and the crowd exceeded the most sanguine expectations of even the local agents. City Passenger Agent Donovan sold seventy tickets before noon, and many others were sold at the Union depot before the train left. The crowd was estimated at from 125 to 150.

At Carbondale the train will catch the Chicago fast mail, and the crowd will be augmented all along the line.

First Vice President J. C. Wellings, of the Illinois Central, and his son, Paul, arrived at noon from Louisville on a private car, en route to Chicago. The car was attached to the excursion train and carried over on the transfer boat.

Yardmaster Nelson has about recovered from his recent illness, and resumed work today.

Route Agent Robertson, of the American, came over from Illinois this morning and went up to Princeton on the I. C.

Traveling Freight Agent Griffin, of the L. & N., is in the city today.

Conductor Will G. Thompson, who has not been in Paducah for several months, will come up to the September tournament of the Paducah Gun Club.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 25, 1897.

MEXICAN dollars were worth only 89 cents in New York yesterday. Silver is rapidly getting down to the Populist's ideal.

The papers don't say anything about the losses by the decline of wheat to 91 1/2 cents yesterday. But such is life. It is only the successful who attain notoriety.

The fact that the people don't want silver money for every day use was shown the other day when the City National Bank of this city was compelled to ship ten thousand dollars in silver to St. Louis. More silver has already been coined than the people want to carry about with them.

Just think of what the farmers of Nebraska will get. Their five leading crops this year are as follows: Wheat, 30,000,000 bushels; corn, 100,000,000; oats, 35,000,000; rye, 2,000,000; and hay, 5,000,000 tons. The five crops are estimated at $100,000,000, and Nebraska raises a few other things besides.

This issue is made in Paducah between parties for the coming municipal election and is well understood and clearly defined. It is "free silver or bust" on the one side, and intelligent progressiveness and economy on the other. The Democratic ticket represents the former, the Republican ticket the latter. Which do you prefer?

THE GOOD TIMES ARE HERE.
This is the way the Cincinnati "Commercial-Tribune" expresses its feelings on the situation:

The halcyons of a grateful people are ascending throughout the entire length and breadth of this great nation. The clouds of gloom that for five long years have hung over the country like a pall are dispersed; the effulgence of the bright and invigorating sunshine of prosperity has quickened into activity all the sources from which the cornucopia of plenty, of comfort and of happiness draws its supplies; the earth has yielded an abundance of her bounty, and the people rejoice accordingly.

COME SOUTH.

The days of going west and growing up with the country are over, to a great extent. That is, in almost all western towns or sections there is enough population to give character and tone, and nearly every western community has its quota of young men who are on hand to "grow up with the country." The West has been fully exploited, and homeseekers have learned that it has its disadvantages as well as its advantages. Many a homeseeker has found that out to his sorrow and his great financial loss.

The South, however, possesses the requisites to successful farming or home-building to as great a degree as any part of this country except those parts of the West that are supplied with adequate systems of irrigation. To a professional man it is probable that the South offers no greater inducements than any other section of the country. We have plenty of young men who are capable and ready to fill any vacancies that may occur in the professions, but nevertheless, young men from the North and the West are always welcome, and thousands of them have found desirable locations and have made a name and a competence for themselves in the South.

It is probable, however, that the South offers more inducements to the farmer than to any other class of people. The South is sparsely settled. There are millions of acres of fine land that can be gotten at very reasonable prices. The South's great railway systems bring every portion of it within reach of a good market. Drouths, hailstorms, tornadoes and hot winds, which render farming in many large portions of the West so precarious, are almost unknown here. There is no reason why the prudent southern farmer should ever be without a crop. Cotton, corn, tobacco and wheat are our great farm staples, but in addition to these are a large number of other crops that are very profitable, and these, in addition to fruit raising, which is profitable in almost all parts of the South; and also, in addition to agriculture and fruit growing, stock raising is a very profitable source of income, while every southern state, with the possible exception of one or two, is rich in all manner of minerals—indeed, her mineral wealth promises to be the chief source of income in a few years in many portions.

The Philadelphia Times speaks the opinion of large numbers of northern people upon the question of immigration to the South. The Times says: These southern states, with their cheap and fertile farms and genial climate, should draw a million of the surplus population of the North to enjoy their better advantages within the next year, and it can be done if they shall make intelligently organized and systematic efforts to accomplish it. There are homes for the homeless and dread for the breadless in the South, with less and better required labor than in any other section today, and we earnestly hope that a successful movement may be made to give homes, employment and plenty to the scores of thousands of sturdy men in the North who have been suffering for want of labor and bread.

The Spanish Tortures
From Springfield (Mass.) Republican.
Just before the assassination of Canovas the London Chronicle printed more details regarding the alleged tortures of the Barcelona anarchists by the Spanish authorities. The tortures were of two grades, says the Chronicle.

"To begin with, the man, with spiked fetters on his wrists, was made to run up and down a cell under the lash for days and nights together, with nothing to eat but salt fish, and nothing to drink. In the second stage he was sometimes plunged into the sea till on the point of death, but more often he was burned with hot irons, and the nails of his fingers and toes were torn out. The most horrible of the alleged tortures is too sickening for description."

Massacres of Millions.
(Annapolis, Md. States.)
Some of the English journals presume to give Americans warning. They could not be in better business. They have no occasion to take up the defense of the Canadian barbarians, whose massacres of millions of seals constitute the most scandalous acts of spoliation of the generation.

Temptation to be Resisted.
(Nebraska State Journal.)
The temptation will be strong to plant wheat farms in central and western Nebraska next season. Men who have paid for their land with their wheat this year will feel like borrowing money and buying more land and planting more wheat next year. That sort of plunging sometimes leads to riches. More often it brings poverty. The way to a competence is to farm a reasonable number of acres well, with as great a variety of crops as the farmer can handle.

A Sympathy Strike.
Danville "Advocate." The "Advocate" learns from an authoritative source that the average earnings of one of the representative mines in the Jellico district for twenty-one days in July, before the strike was ordered, was $47.03, or $2.24 per day. The more industrious of them received from $60 to $70 during the same period, and thus earned, say, $3 per day. It is plain, then, that the miners could, if they chose, make a good deal more than the average day laborer, and it is also patent that their condition was much better than is the popular belief. It is understood the mine owners and their employees are on the best of terms, and each was satisfied with the scale of wages agreed upon in the spring, but out of sympathy for the striking miners north of the Ohio river, and in obedience, perhaps to the labor organizations, they quit work and are now idle. It is unfortunate, if it is true that they were earning fair wages and were contented, that they yielded to the influence that has forced them into idleness.

FISCAL COURT.
Is Called to Meet in Extra Session Sept. 6th.
County Judge Tully yesterday afternoon made the following call, which explains itself:
"Upon evidence furnished the court it appears that great dissatisfaction and disapproval exists because of the action of the fiscal court of

McCracken county in placing the gravel roads under the supervision and control of the justices in the fifth, sixth and seventh magisterial districts, and it further appearing that Justice H. C. Hartley, who has charge of the greater part of the gravel roads in McCracken county, is himself dissatisfied with the action of the board of justices in the existing arrangement.
"And, whereas, the county judge recommended to the fiscal court that the gravel roads be placed under the control and management of a supervisor, as they were by the several corporations that formerly owned said roads, and being satisfied that it is the desire and intention of the fiscal court to keep the gravel roads in repair the best way and at the least cost.
"Therefore, the justices composing the fiscal court: J. P. Winchester, J. H. Little, D. W. Settle, H. C. Hartley, J. S. Ganster, R. S. Barnett, W. A. Dunaway and H. Anderson, are hereby called to meet at the court house in Paducah, McCracken county, Ky., at 2 o'clock p. m., Monday, Sept. 6, 1897, to consider the matter of the gravel roads in this county, and for no other purpose."

SOLDIERS' REUNION.

Big Crowds Expected at Kuttawa For Three Days.
The Advance Guard of the Paducah Contingent Left This Morning.
Tomorrow the old soldiers will gather at the springs near Kuttawa, for a three days' reunion. Elaborate preparations have been made, and a large crowd is expected.
Street Inspector J. W. Cosby, of the 20th Ky., Col. J. W. Hartwell, of the 11th Ky. Inf., and Capt. E. T. Harper, of the 120th Ind., left this morning, accompanied by Capt. B. F. Bright, of Fancy Farm. The crowds are expected tomorrow.

BURGULARS BOLD

Invaded Mr. G. B. Underwood's Residence.
They Secured His Store Key and Then Paid a Visit to the Store.
Mr. G. B. Underwood, of 417 North Sixth street, always boasted that no one could break into his house. Last night he retired and left his trousers hanging on a chair. This morning no trousers were visible.

A search revealed the fact that someone had gone through every room in the house save one. Entrance was effected by prying off a shutter, and the burglars evidently sought nothing except money and provisions.

They carried off a quantity of the latter, but did not secure any money, as it happened Mr. Underwood did not leave it in his breeches pocket as usual.

The pants were left in another room, after the key to the piano store, in the Campbell building on Broadway had been taken. The thieves evidently knew Mr. Underwood, as they went directly to the piano store with the key, unlocked the door, and went through the house, but took nothing, as they found nothing but pianos, and probably had no use for one of these. They left the back door open in going out.

CHIEF SINGERY

Sallies Forth in Search of a Murderer.
Some one telephoned Chief Singery early last night that there was a light in the vicinity of the F. R. district school house. The voice said that the report was that a man and his head cut off with a meat ax.

A TWILIGHT HANGING.

Dr. F. T. Fort Did Not See the Rope.
Dr. F. T. Fort came near being hanged by the neck until he was dead, dead, dead last night. The evidences of it are now visible on his neck.
He was riding along on South Fifth street last evening on his bicycle when he suddenly found himself hanging to the rope stretched across the newly rolled street. His bicycle did not stop but went on ahead, and when the Doctor got loose, he murmured something softly to himself. He claims there was no danger light at the corner. The skin came off his neck in a few places, but otherwise he was unharmed.

AFTER A LENGTHY ILLNESS.

Mrs. Kate Brownfield Dies of Consumption.
Mrs. Kate Brownfield died this morning of consumption at the home of her father, Mr. R. J. Wilkins, on South Eleventh street, after a lengthy illness.
The deceased was 26 years old, and leaves a husband, who is a non-resident, and several sisters and brothers. The deceased was a member of the Third street M. E. church.
Mr. J. W. Scoggins Dies.
Mr. J. W. Scoggins died last evening at his home near Grahamville, of paralysis, after a several weeks' illness. The deceased was 55 years old, and leaves a wife and eight children. The remains were buried in Newton Creek burial ground.

Items of Special Interest to River People

Business was somewhat better on the levee and wharf this morning than for several days previous. River traffic was good in both receipts and shipments.

The Dick Fowler was out as usual for Cairo this morning.

The Ashland City cleared for Danville this morning on time, doing a nice freight business.

The City of Sheffield arrived out of Tennessee river this morning at 9 o'clock, with a good trip of freight and a large crowd of round-trippers. She was en route to St. Louis.

The Joe Fowler was the Evansville mail liner this forenoon. She was down and away for the Hoosier City on good time with good business.

A large lot of coal belonging to the St. Bernard Coal Company sunk while lying alongside the steamer Luis Warren last night. The tug Lamasco was busy this morning raising it.

The little harbor boat Mary N., which was crossed out by the inspectors some time past, and was almost newly rebuilt here in the ways, is in all readiness for service again with the exception of receiving her inspection papers, which are now on their way here from Nashville. She will be out in a few days as good as a new boat.

The official gauge showed the river 3.4 this morning and continuing to fall at a slow gait, there being a fall of only two tenths in the last 24 hours.

The City of Clarksville is due here this afternoon out of the Ohio, and leaves on her return to Elizabethtown tomorrow at noon. She is expected to carry a large consignment of wheat.

The main ways are again living life after several months of active service. They have done an extensive repairing business this summer, but no new work has been turned out on the cradles this season.

The City of Paducah will arrive here from St. Louis this afternoon en route up the Tennessee river to Florence, Ala. She is expected to have a big freight trip, as well as a crowd of excursionists.

The handsome Cincinnati packet, the Sunshine, passed up last night from Memphis, bound up the Ohio to Cincinnati. She had a big upstream trip, as well as a few people.

The H. W. Buttorff arrived here early this morning from Clarksville and left on her return up the Cumberland river for Nashville at 10 o'clock, doing an excellent freight business.

The Mayflower leaves St. Louis this afternoon for Tennessee river points. She now has over 100 passengers registered and will arrive here about Friday night.

The big Buckeye State, which was due here from Cincinnati this morning, had not put in an appearance at a late hour and it is expected that she is having considerable trouble in getting over the shallow places. She is bound down to Memphis.

The Bowena Lee leaves tomorrow for Memphis, after being the ougly repaid here on the ways.

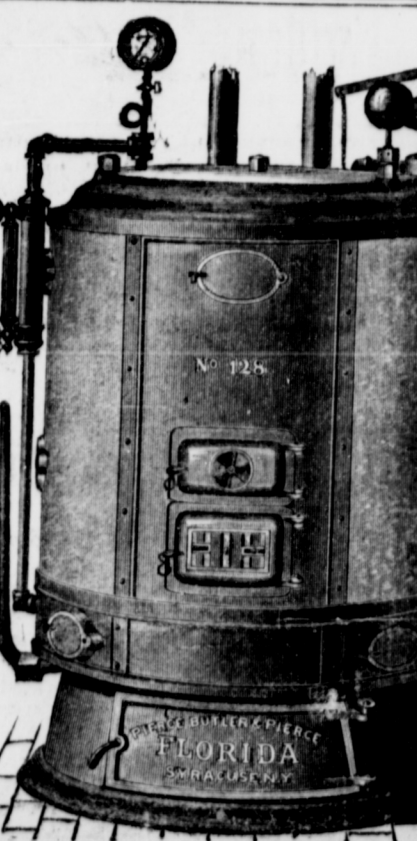

Death at Mayfield.
The wife of Mr. Edwin P. Jones, of this town, died yesterday morning from the influenza of age. She was nearly seventy-two years old and was a highly esteemed woman among a large acquaintance. She leaves a husband, one daughter and three sons, one of whom is Mr. J. W. Pryor, of this city, and Messrs. G. W. and A. J. Pryor, east of town. She was sister also of Esq. A. J. Watts, of this city. The remains were interred at Spencer's Chapel—Mayfield Mirror.

Death in Marshall.
Colbert Ford, aged 4 years, died in the Carter's Mill section of Marshall county yesterday. The remains were carried to Benton for burial.

PLASTERING FELL
And Struck Mayor Yeiser in the Head.

Late yesterday afternoon Mayor Yeiser was sitting at Terrell's livery stable when a fragment of loose plaster fell upon his head and inflicted quite a painful gash, which bled profusely.

The sensational report that some one had maliciously thrown the plaster at him was, of course, false. The plastering above his head was all loose, and a bird or something dislodged a piece of it.

SPLENDID PLANT.

The Flouring Mill and Storage Elevator of the Paducah Milling and Elevator Company.

It is the Old Three Rivers Mill. Completely Overhauled and Brought Strictly Up to Date—Can Turn Out the Very Finest of Flour.

The old Three Rivers mill is again the scene of life and activity after a period of illness of fourteen months. The damage done by the recent tornado, that tore off a roof and pushed down a few walls, just to show what it could do, has been entirely repaired. On Monday morning the machinery was started and the manufacture of flour began in real earnest.

The mill is operated by Messrs. Puryear and Coker, who propose to run a modern mill and to make flour that will match any made in quality and appearance. The name of the firm is the Paducah Milling and Elevator Company.

The mill has been thoroughly overhauled by Todds & Stanley, mill furnishers, of St. Louis, one of the most reliable firms of this kind in the country. The millwright here in charge of the work is Mr. William Todds & Stanley, is Mr. William Thibault, of St. Louis, who has proved himself to be a thorough mechanic in every respect.

The expert miller of the above St. Louis firm is Mr. E. E. Hunter, and he is now here on the ground, adjusting the machinery and superintending the starting of the mill. The results obtained in the first two days that the mill has been running far exceed the expectations of all concerned, and the machinery is running as smoothly as can be desired. Mr. Hunter made the sale of machinery to the Paducah Milling and Elevator Company and secured the contract for the repairing. He has been a practical miller since 1874, serving his time at Cairo.

All the machinery throughout the entire mill has been modernized and bought strictly up to date in every respect. All rolls have been equipped with new automatic roll feeders, which all millers know are essential to good milling. A new flour packer has been added, and new silk bolting cloth has been placed throughout the entire mill. The smooth rolls have all been reground and the corrugated rolls have been ground and reconditioned. In fact, everything throughout the mill has been handled in the above manner, so that the mill is as modern and as up to date as if it had come fresh from the hands of the manufacturers.

In addition to the flouring mill there is a corn meal plant on the roller process, equipped thoroughly with all necessary machinery for turning out a high grade of meal. The daily capacity of these two mill plants is four hundred barrels.

Besides the corn meal and flouring mill plants, there is a storage elevator for storing grain of all kinds which also has been completely overhauled and is now in perfect running order. The capacity of the elevator is 60,000 bushels. The mill is also equipped with a sack carrier for loading and unloading the river steamers.

The new track which the I. C. railroad is now constructing along the river front will run along First street after it crosses Jefferson, and will pass immediately in front of the whole mill property, which fronts on First street 173 feet, and will put in a switch especially for the mill's use. This will give the company the very finest of facilities for receiving grain and for handling its output.

The company also has on the opposite side of First street a cooperative plant, where all the barrels used in packing flour are made. This plant works about eight hours and at present is turning out nearly one hundred barrels per day.

The power of the mill is furnished by a 200 horse power engine which is now largely in excess of the demands but will enable the mill to enlarge its output greatly at any time with no additional power plant.

The mill is arranged to make any grade of flour that the market demands. Three grades are now being turned out, patent, bakers and choice; the brands used by the mill are Pride of the Purchase, their highest grade patent, Success, patent; Snow Drift, bakers, and Daisy, which is a choice family flour; also a straight combined grade can be made and will be if the trade demands it. The best grade of flour that is now being turned out is as fine as any flour that is put on the market. The only difference between this mill and the mills of the famous flour manufacturers is the size. None can be more modern or do nicer work. The mill is not being run to its full capacity just now, but it will be in a few days. Paducah is not only a good grain market, but it is an unpassed distributing point, and there is no reason why the output of this mill cannot be easily sold. It is the purpose of the Paducah Milling and Elevator Company to increase the output very largely within the next year, at least doubling or trebling its present capacity. Ample grain comes here to market, or would come here, to supply a 1000-barrel mill.

The superintendent of the mill is Mr. W. A. Coker, who in connection with Mr. T. H. Puryear, compose the Paducah Milling and Elevator Company. Mr. Coker is well known in this city, having resided here for over a year. He came from McLeansboro, Ill., and has been in the milling business since 1874.

The head miller is Mr. Wm. Oehlenschlaeger, a most expert miller, and

As has been frequently stated in the St. Louis, Paducah is destined to be a prosperous manufacturing city. She is now famous for her wholesale trade, which has given the Plain City the proud distinction of being the largest wholesale city of its size in the United States. The advantages of a most fortunate location, backed by most favorable freight rates, have been utilized by our hustling merchants, until the drummers that travel from this city take in a dozen states in their regular trips and meet in successful competition the representatives of Louisville, St. Louis, Cincinnati and Memphis.

The success of our wholesale trade shows what can be done in the manufacturing line. Already several large plants are here and have become an important factor in the city's business and by their success have demonstrated what can be done. We do not look for Paducah to be a second Minneapolis, but we do believe that this city is an elegant location for a flouring mill of large capacity. The enterprise displayed by the Paducah Milling and Elevator Company, with the splendid facilities that they now have for the manufacture of flour gives ample assurance that their undertaking will be a complete success and that they will be an important factor in making Paducah the manufacturing city she is destined to be.

The Paducah Milling and Elevator Co. has been paying the highest price for wheat, and in fact Paducah has been the best wheat market as far as prices are concerned in the state. Many thousands of bushels have been sold here at $1.00.

A DRUNKEN FARMER

Demolished Marshal Collins' Buggy Out In the Country.

Last evening Mrs. Collins, wife of Marshal James Collins, and little daughter, were driving towards the city from Mr. Sam Eaker's, in the country, where Mrs. Collins had gone to see Mr. Eaker, who is ill.

Near Pepper's Mill, five miles from town, a drunken farmer who had been to the city and sold his wheat ran into Mrs. Collins' vehicle and completely demolished it, turning it over and throwing the occupants out.

Mrs. Collins had turned out until her buggy was almost in the ditch. The farmer looked back and said, when he saw the wreck: "Ish all yer faulch, you ought got out er the way. Everything goes anyhow. Wheat's a dollar a bushel!" He drove on and some of the neighbors kindly loaned Mrs. Collins a rig in which to come home. The only complaint she made to the marshal was that some jars of fruit she was bringing to the city were broken. Neither she nor the little girl was injured.

The officers of the miners and the coal operators continued their session yesterday. The operators proposed to submit their differences to arbitration and offered to concede 7 1/2 cents per ton pending a settlement. President Rockefeller refused this and staid firm for the 69 cent rate. The conference accomplished nothing beyond effecting a temporary truce, with the prospects that the mines will soon be in operation with a school alone as care to compromise and such imported men as can be secured.
